Mme Secretary:

I just wanted to let you know I met with Judith McHale to discuss providing communications support in Pakistan, per Ambassador Haqqani's request. Her Special Assistant for South Asia was there as well.

They felt it was sorely needed, and we are connecting to the person administering the communications resources on the ground. We agreed that we'll need to see how things shake out over the next couple of months, in case key players change.

We also discussed the importance of broadening our relationships outside of the Government, and to use this work to connect with NGOs and parliamentarians as well. We took that approach when I did this in Lebanon, and it worked well.

Next they want to talk about Afghanistan. Any thoughts on that?

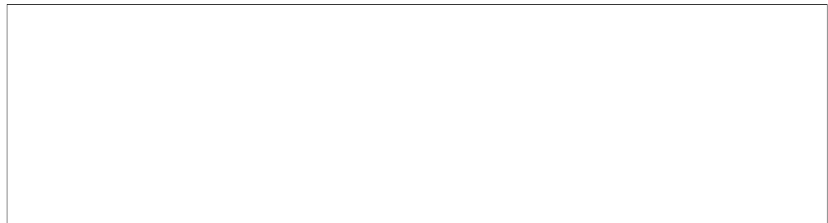

By the way, I had lunch yesterday with Senator Shaheen, who as you know sits on Foreign Relations. I worked with her when she was Governor in NH.

She's looking for issues to champion, and of course I suggested global women's issues. She was very interested.

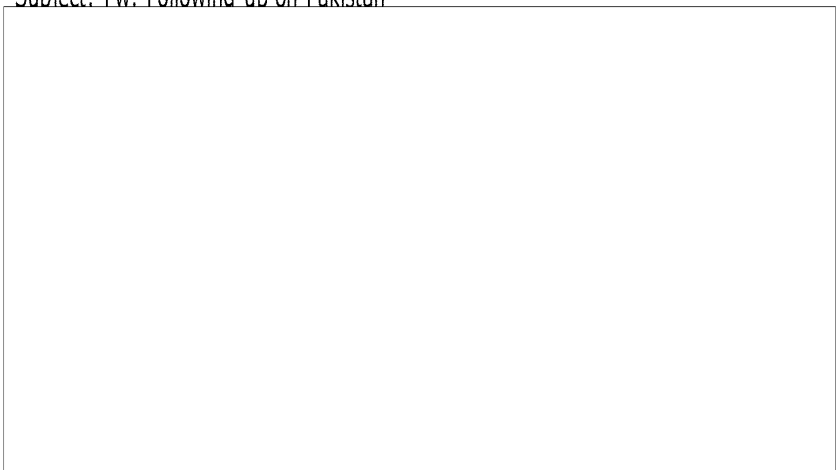

I'll ask Melanne how Jeanne can be helpful, but if you had thoughts on that or other issues, I'm sure they'd be very welcome.

Best, Doug
